

Greenhithe School Behaviour Policy

Rationale:

Through positively reinforcing appropriate behaviour and having a series of preset consequences when expected behaviours are not displayed, children learn to accept responsibility for their behaviour and to modify behaviours which do not fit into what the school has defined as acceptable. This leads to the internalising of appropriate behaviour and choices, and helps children move through the stages of moral reasoning.

Children need to know exactly what is expected of them, therefore expected school behaviours will be fully discussed in the first week of each term, together with the consequences of keeping or breaking rules.

The Consequences for Good Behaviour:

These include recognition of 'caught being good' nominations through verbal praise, house point cards, stickers and certificates, and of course, knowing that one is doing the RIGHT thing is the BEST reward.

Guidelines:

1. A strong emphasis on positive reinforcement and noticing appropriate behaviours
2. School expected behaviours are regularly revisited throughout the school year within classes or assemblies
3. Parents are clearly informed of our school values and expected behaviour at the beginning of the year
4. Support services are accessed as required
5. A record of misdemeanours by the same student(s) will be kept
6. Developing and maintaining appropriate and acceptable behaviour is a shared responsibility between student, teacher and whānau.
7. Inappropriate behaviours will be managed through our Misdemeanour and Consequences procedure

School Values:

Our expected behaviours will reflect our school values. These are:
